Valuation Date:

The analysis of the Fair Value of the equity of the company has been carried out at three stages as given below:

- Market Approach – SEBI ICDR Regulation on 9th April, 2025.
- Income Approach – 31st March, 2025
- Net Asset Value Method – 31st December, 2024.

5. Valuation Standard:

The report has been prepared in compliance with the Valuation Standards prescribed in rule 18 of the Companies (Registered Valuers and valuation) Rules 2017 and International Valuation Standards (IVS) prescribed as given below:

- IVS 500 – Financial Instruments
- IVS 105 - Valuation Approaches and Methods
- IVS 104 – Bases of Value

6. Valuation Methodology and Approach: (Bases of Value)

The standard of value used in the Analysis is “Fair Value”, which is often defined as the price, in terms of cash or equivalent, that a buyer could reasonably be expected to pay, and a seller could reasonably be expected to accept, if the business were exposed for sale on the open market for a reasonable period of time, with both buyer and seller being in possession of the pertinent facts and neither being under any compulsion to act.

The results of this exercise could vary significantly depending upon the basis used, the specific circumstances and professional judgment of the valuer. In respect of going concern the following valuation techniques have necessarily considered.

1. Asset Approach – NAV (Net Asset Value Approach):

The value arrived at under this approach is based on the audited financial statements of the business and may be defined as Shareholders’ Funds or Net Assets owned by the business. The NAV method is generally used as the minimum break-up value for the transaction since this methodology ignores the future return on the assets that can produce for a certain period of operation in the future and is calculated using historical accounting data that does not reflect how much the business is worth to someone who may buy it as a going concern.

NAV is considered as one of the valuation methods.

2. Market Approach:

(i) Comparable Company Market Multiple Method:

Under this methodology, market multiples of comparable listed companies are computed and applied to the business being valued in order to arrive a multiple based valuation. Since the proposed company is a listed company this method would have been considered, however valuation rules of SEBI ICDR regulations for listed companies applied, this method is not considered

(8)

(ii) Comparable Transactions Multiple Method:

This approach is somewhat similar to the market multiples approach except that the sales and EBITDA multiples of reported transactions in the same industry in the recent past are applied to the sale and EBITDA of the business being valued.

Since valuation rules of SEBI ICDR regulations for listed companies applied, this method is not considered

(iii) Market Traded Price Method:

Valuation of Equity shares under market price approach is dependent upon the price at which shares of the company are quoted at the listed Stock Exchange. More the volume, more authentic is price. Since the company is a BSE listed company, this method is being considered for the valuation of shares based on SEBI ICDR Regulations

2. Share Holders Fund Based Approach:

Share Holders Fund Based Approach is the simplest form of value of Equity Shares of the company. This is the value of total fund available to investors (Share Holders) i.e. Equity Capital and Reserves and surplus available to shareholders. Since NAV is considered, this method is not opted

3. Income Approach: (Discounted Free Cash Flows – DFCF):

DFCF uses the future free cash flows of the company discounted by the firm's weighted average cost of capital (the average cost of all the capital used in the business, including debt and equity), plus a risk factor measured by beta, to arrive at the present value.

Beta is an adjustment that uses historic stock market data to measure the sensitivity of the company's cash flow to market indices, for example, through business cycles.

The DFCF method is a strong valuation tool, as it concentrates on cash generation potential of a business. This valuation method is based on the capability of a company to generate cash flows in the future. The free cash flows are projected for a certain number of years and then discounted at a discount rate that reflects a company's cost of capital and the risk associated with the cash flows it generates. The DCF analysis is based mainly on the following elements:

- Projection of financial statements (key value driving factors)
- The cost of capital to discount the projected cash flows

Keeping in mind the context and purpose of the Report, I have used the DFCF method as it captures the growth potential of the business going forward. I have used this method to calculate the fair value of equity of the Company based on the financial projections prepared by the Management of the Company.

Discount Factor:

The Discount Factor considered for arriving at the present value of the Free Cash-flows to equity of the Company is the cost of Equity. The cost of equity is computed using the Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM) using the Formula shown Below:

$$R_e = R(f) + \beta (R(m) - R(f))$$

$R(f)$  = Risk Free Rate

$R(m)$  = Market Return

$\beta$  = Sensitivity of the index to the market

$R(f)$  – Risk Free Return taken as 6.580% - Ten Year Bond Yield Average as on 31st March, 2025

$R(m)$  – Market Return in the business category belongs to the company taken as 17.54%; 3 Year Return-NSE Financial Sector-Ex Bank - Index Dashboard, March 2025

Based on the above, the Risk Premium is - 10.96%

Measure of Market Risk (Beta) has been assumed at 1.25; NSE Financial Sector Beta Ex Bank - Index Dashboard – March 2025.

Based on the above parameters, the cost of equity has been calculated at 20.28% using CAPM.

WACC – Weighted Average Cost of Capital:

WACC
Particulars	Amount (INR)	Weight	Cost	Assigned Value
Equity	299,599,630.00	0.136956724	20.28	2.78
Debt Securities	473,190,000.00	0.216310521	11.25	2.43
Long Term Borrowings	577,282,000.00	0.26	9.5	2.51
Subordinate Liabilities	651,102,000.00	0.297639876	11	3.27
Lease Liabilities	186,376,000.00		0	0.00
Total	2,187,549,630.00	0.914801476		10.99

WACC is taken as 11% and the above calculation is based on the present capital structure of the company as on 31st December, 2024

The growth of financial Sector in India is assumed as 6% per year, which is taken for the calculation of Terminal Value based on GDP Growth rate.
